

Administrative Operations

The Board of Education will determine the policies to guide the decision-making process governing all aspects of the school district- its staff, students, and various publics included. In setting these policies, it will seek through the Superintendent input from the principals, teaching staff, classified staff, and other publics when appropriate and relevant to do so.

The administration and/or his/her designee(s), in turn, is primarily responsible for the direction, coordination, and management of the staff and students to see that the philosophy, goals, and policies adopted by the Board of Education, the laws of the State of Nebraska, Employee Agreements, and rules and regulations otherwise set forth by the Board and/or administration of the district are followed.

Any issues, problems, or conflicts arising out of the process of carrying forth the policies, etc. as defined above, shall be handled through any written procedures in effect, or in the absence of written procedures established, through a chain of command that shall begin with the parent/teacher/student if applicable, to the principal, to the Superintendent and only then to the Board of Education for possible resolution.

The Board expects the administration to provide leadership in resolving issues and problems that arise within the school(s) by showing competence in:

1. Decision making and communication
2. Planning, organizing, implementing, and evaluating
3. Coordinating and guiding the various centers of power within the School system and the community so as to enable people to do things together for education what they may never be able to do separately
